Revision of Rule 020 - Rules Respecting Gas Utility Pipeline Applications

The Alberta Utilities Commission (the Commission) is inviting comments from interested parties regarding draft Rule 020 – Rules Respecting Gas Utility Pipeline Applications. The Commission is considering changes to Rule 020. The proposed changes are reflected in draft Rule 020.

Rule 020 describes the process involved in completing gas utility pipeline applications to the Commission. The proposed changes to Rule 020 are as follows:

- Modifications to the Gas Utility Pipeline Licence Application Form
- Rule 020 no longer refers to ERCB Directive 056
- The current draft version of Rule 020 follows a format similar to ERCB Directive 056; however, this version covers only the pipelines and pipeline installations that are regulated Commission

Draft Rule 020, as well as a matrix to be used to provide your comments can be found on the Commission's website by using the following link <http://www.auc.ab.ca/acts-regulations-and-auc-rules/rules/Pages/Rule020.aspx>.

Please provide comments by February 27, 2009. Any questions regarding this consultation should be directed to Bob Yanchula by telephone at (403) 592-4451, or by email at bob.yanchula@auc.ab.ca
