Application for amendments to the 240-kV Transmission System Development in Area Northwest of Fort McMurray Needs Identification Document has been received

Proceeding 23149 Application 23149-A001

The Alberta Utilities Commission, the independent utilities regulator, will be considering the need for electric transmission system amendment in Proceeding 23149. If you feel you may be affected by this application you can provide input to the AUC to review before it makes its decision.

The Alberta Electric System Operator (AESO), under the Electric Utilities Act, has applied to cancel the unconstructed components in the 240-kV Transmission System Development in Area Northwest of Fort McMurray Needs Identification Document (see figure below). The components were previously approved to meet the demand of new oilsands development. However, since the Needs Identification Document (NID) was approved, the forecast load in the area has significantly reduced and there is no longer an immediate need to construct the remaining components. The AESO stated that the only constructed component from the NID is the Birchwood Creek 960S Substation.
